The FSM Department of Health and Social Affairs (FSMDHSA) is announcing the availability of fellowship or scholarship for those interested in health (medicine, dentistry, pharmacology, public health, mental health, and other related fields). The funding is made available from the World Health Organization (WHO). Those interested must send an email to health@fsmhealth.fm or contact the numbers below. The applicant must submit a completed WHO Fellowship Application form and transcripts.

Please note that the applicant must apply and be accepted into a specialized medical/health-related program in an accredited University. Although high school graduates with exceptional academic achievement can be considered, applicants into a post-undergraduate health program, especially in medical, dental, biomedical technology, and other specialized programs will be prioritized.

Deadline to submit all required documents is December 15 of each year.
